My Ideal Client

Just like any business owner, I have certain things I look for in a client. Taking a line from a song in my all time favorite movie, "these are a few of my favorite things!"

My Ideal Client...

- Loves running their business but doesn't care for the administrative tasks which take time away from other things you love such as family and hobbies.
- Recognizes they need an administrative expert to work side-by-side with them and is willing let go and let that person do what they do best!
- Remembers that I am working with them to run their business more efficiently allowing them more free time.
- Is a long-term, big picture thinker seeking quality and high standards and sees these as worthwhile investments.
- Is successful enough to meet the expense of partnering with an Administrative Consultant and the monthly fee to be determined by, mutually agreed upon, and is specific to each client's needs assessment.
- Respects my client guide as I will respect their business and its processes.
